

Privacy Policy

A New Direction is a London-based non-profit, generating opportunities for children and young people to unlock their creativity. We are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

This policy, together with any other documents referred to in it, sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us. Please read the following carefully to understand our practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat it.

Contents

About A New Direction	2
What information does A New Direction collect?	2
Overview of personal data, processing and your rights.....	2
What is personal data?	2
The data controller	2
Lawful processing.....	2
Your data rights	3
What data does A New Direction hold?	3
Business Contacts:	3
Event Attendees.....	4
Programme Participants (18+):.....	4
Programme Participants (under 18):.....	4
Marketing Communications, mailing lists and newsletters	5
Create Jobs Communications and Programme Participants	6
Social Media.....	6
Sharing your personal data	7
Third party websites.....	7
Protecting your personal data.....	7
Security of your personal data	7
How long we store your personal data for?.....	8
Changes to this privacy policy	8
More information about your data rights and complaints.....	8

Get in touch:

If you need to contact us about anything to do with this Privacy Policy or your data, please email dataprotection@anewdirection.org.uk.

About A New Direction

A New Direction is a London-based non-profit, generating opportunities for children and young people to unlock their creativity. We are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

Our address is: 50 Worship Street, EC2A 2EA

Our main website is <https://www.anewdirection.org.uk/> and is owned and operated by A New Direction.

What information does A New Direction collect?

We collect information that you provide to us directly, to enable us to deliver our services.

We also collect information automatically when you visit our website, namely your IP address, the pages you had previously visited or when you use our services, including usage, log and cookies information or similar technologies.

Overview of personal data, processing and your rights

What is personal data?

Personal data is information that relates to an identified or identifiable individual.

Under the General Data Protection Regulation \(Regulation \(EU\) 2016/679\) ('GDPR') and Data Protection Act 2018 ('the Act'), personal data is defined as:

"any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ('data subject'), by reference to an identifier such as:

- a name,
- an identification number,
- location data,
- an online identifier

or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person'.

The data controller

A data controller is the individual or legal person who controls and is responsible to keep and use personal data in paper or electronic files.

A New Direction is the data controller as defined by relevant data protection laws and regulation.

Lawful processing

The lawful bases for processing are set out in Article 6 of the GDPR. At least one of these must apply whenever personal data is to be processed:

- a) Consent: you have given your free, specific and informed or unambiguous consent for your personal data to be processed for a specific purpose;

- b) Contract performance: the processing is necessary for the performance of a contract you have with A New Direction, which had asked you to take specific steps before entering into a contract;
- c) Compliance with legal obligation: the processing is necessary for A New Direction to comply with tax or social security obligations, and employment law (not including contractual obligations);
- d) Protection of vital interests: the processing is vital to an individual's survival;
- e) Public interest: the processing is necessary for A New Direction to perform a task that is in the public interest or for its official functions, and the task or function has a clear basis in law; and
- f) Legitimate interests: the processing is necessary for A New Direction's legitimate interests, or the legitimate interests of a third-party, unless there is a good reason to protect the individual's personal data that overrides those legitimate interests.

Your data rights

Your data subject rights are:

- the right of access
- the right to rectification
- the right to erasure or right to be forgotten
- the right to restriction of processing
- the right to be informed
- the right to data portability
- the right to object
- the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing

Under the GDPR and the Act, you may ask for a copy of the information we hold about you and you may request rectifications be made to this information if it is inaccurate or not up to date. Please contact us on dataprotection@anewdirection.org.uk.

What data does A New Direction hold?

Below we have outlined the type of data we hold depending on how you engage with us.

Business Contacts:

We hold data from our partners, such as organisations, trusts and foundations, schools and local authorities. This information is kept on Salesforce.

Why do we process your data?

Where personal data on business contacts is held, it is used for the following purposes:

- Promotion and development of our services;
- Communication with our business partners;
- Hosting and facilitating of events;
- Managing our relationships; and
- Administration and management.

What data do we hold?

Personal data that may be stored in Salesforce includes, but is not limited to: names, email addresses, phone numbers, your organisation's physical addresses, job titles, and details of the initial meeting and event attendance.

In addition, personal data may be securely archived with restricted access and

Event Attendees

Why do we process data?

Where personal data about event attendees (people who sign up to attend an A New Direction event) is held, it is used for the following purposes:

- Communication with event attendees;
- Hosting and facilitating of events;
- Event administration, logistics and management.

What data do we hold?

Personal data is stored in Salesforce. Personal data that may be stored includes, but is not limited to, names, email addresses, phone numbers, your organisation's physical addresses, job titles. We also keep a record of participants' attendance at our programmes and events.

In addition, personal data may be securely archived with restricted access and other appropriate safeguards where there is a need to continue to retain it.

Programme Participants (18+):

Why do we process your data?

Where personal data on programme participants is held, it is used for the following purposes:

- Promotion and development of our services;
- Communication with our programme participants;
- Hosting and facilitating of events;
- Managing our relationships; and
- Administration and management.

We may also report aggregated anonymous data based on the engagement with our programmes to our funders.

What data do we hold?

Personal data is stored in Salesforce. Personal data that may be stored includes, but is not limited to: name, email address, phone number, your borough of residence. We also keep a record of participants' attendance at our programmes and events.

In addition, personal data may be securely archived with restricted access and other appropriate safeguards where there is a need to continue to retain it.

Programme Participants (under 18):

Why do we process your data?

Where personal data on programme participants under 18 is held, it is used for the following purposes:

- Communication with our programme participants;
- Hosting and facilitating of events;
- Safeguarding;
- Programme administration, logistics and management;
- To monitor your progress on our programmes;
- To measure and report on our impact.

We may also report aggregated anonymous data based on the engagement with our programmes to our funders.

What data do we hold?

Personal data is stored in Salesforce. Personal data that may be stored includes, but is not limited to: name, email address, phone number, your borough of residence, parents/legal guardians' contact details and their consent related to your participation. We also keep a record of participants' attendance at our programmes and events.

In addition, personal data may be securely archived with restricted access and other appropriate safeguards where there is a need to continue to retain it.

Marketing Communications, mailing lists and newsletters

Why do we process data?

We collect information necessary for the following purposes:

- To inform people who sign up to hear from us about our events, activities, and news.
- As part of the registration process for our monthly e-newsletters, which contain event listings, programme opportunities, news and featured blogs / research, we process personal information to facilitate our newsletter.
- To monitor the impact and reach of our communications.

What data do we hold?

All personal information is stored securely in Mail Chimp and Salesforce (see 'How we keep your details safe and secure' below), and isn't shared with any third parties unless specified (see 'Third parties' below).

The necessary information to conduct the above activities, includes but is not limited to name, email address, phone number, your organisation's name and physical address and job title.

Engagement with our communications is tracked in Mail Chimp, we can see who has opened our e-communications and links that have been clicked on. Only anonymised, total engagement figures are shared.

In addition, personal data may be securely archived with restricted access and other appropriate safeguards where there is a need to continue to retain it.

Create Jobs Communications and Programme Participants

Why do we process data?

We collect information and process information about you in order to help build the next generation of creative workers.

What data do we hold?

As part of the sign-up process for our monthly newsletters, we collect the following information:

- Email address: this is compulsory as we need this to be able to send the newsletter to you
- First name and surname: this information isn't compulsory, but it does allow us to keep any information we have about you up to date.

All personal information is stored securely in Mail Chimp and Salesforce (see 'How we keep your details safe and secure' below), and isn't shared with any third parties unless specified (see 'Third parties' below)

We use a third-party provider, Mail Chimp, to deliver our newsletter. We gather statistics around email opening and clicks using industry standard technologies to help us monitor and improve our e-newsletter. Mail Chimp are compliant with GDPR regulations, see their privacy notice for more information. You can unsubscribe to general mailings at any time by clicking the unsubscribe link at the bottom of any of our emails or by emailing us at dataprotection@anewdirection.org.uk.

When you register to receive tailored job support, we collect more detailed information on things such as your employment status, date of birth right to work in the UK, ethnicity, age, qualifications and address. This is because many of our opportunities are only available to people meeting very specific criteria e.g. people living in certain boroughs who are unemployed, so we need this information to be able to send you relevant opportunities.

We also ask for details of your work interests, and any disabilities you may have. This is to help us provide you with the best tailored advice and pastoral support possible. We also ask for your email address and phone number so our Engagement Officers can contact you with relevant opportunities and jobs.

We also use social media to broadcast messages and updates about events and news. On occasion we may reply to comments or questions you make to us on social media platforms. You may also see adverts from us on social media that are tailored to your interests.

Depending on your settings and the privacy policies used by social media and messaging services like Facebook, LinkedIn or Twitter, we may receive non-personally identifying demographic or analytical information from these services that enables us to better understand the reach and effectiveness of our advertising.

Social Media

We use social media to share messages and updates about events and news. On occasions we may reply to comments or questions you make to us on social media platforms. You may also see adverts from us on social media that are tailored to your interests.

Depending on your settings and the privacy policies used by social media and messaging services like Facebook, LinkedIn or Twitter, we may receive non-personally identifying demographic or analytical information from these services that enables us to better understand the reach and effectiveness of our advertising.

If you contact us, we may keep a record of that correspondence.

Sharing your personal data

We may disclose your personal information to third parties if we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply any agreements, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of the organisation, or other individuals. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of safeguarding or other statutory regulations we have to comply with as well as those organisations with whom you and we have reciprocal agreements for providing services for education or professional development.

Third party websites

Our site may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partner networks, advertisers and affiliates. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites have their own privacy policies and that we do not accept any responsibility or liability for these policies. Please check these policies before you submit any personal data to these websites.

Protecting your personal data

The data that we collect from you will be processed at our servers within both the EEA and USA.

If personal data is transferred outside the UK or EEA to a country without a designated adequacy rating, A New Direction will request the data subject's consent before processing the data. Consent will not be sought where the processor's Binding Corporate Rules, Standard Contractual Clauses or adhoc contractual clauses stipulate that the data will be processed in accordance with the GDPR.

Security of your personal data

To help protect the privacy of data and personally identifiable information you transmit through use of this our website, we maintain physical, technical and administrative safeguards. We update and test our security technology on an ongoing basis. We restrict access to your personal data to those employees who need to know that information to provide benefits or services to you. In addition, we train our employees about the importance of confidentiality and maintaining the privacy and security of your information. We commit to taking appropriate disciplinary measures to enforce our employees' privacy responsibilities.

How long we store your personal data for?

We store your personal data in accordance with our Data Retention Policy. This policy is reviewed and updated internally to ensure we do not store your data for longer than is necessary. We also review how and where we store any data to ensure that we meet our obligation to store data securely.

In addition, some of the data we hold may be subject to certain legal and regulatory obligations, which provide a minimum retention period for different types of data. The retention period varies depending on the data we hold.

Changes to this privacy policy

This privacy policy was last updated on 17 March 2020. A New Direction reserves the right to vary this privacy policy from time to time. Such variations become effective on posting on this website. Your subsequent use of this website or submission of personal information to A New Direction will be deemed to signify your acceptance to the variations.

More information about your data rights and complaints

For further information on your rights and how to complain to the ICO, please refer to the ICO website <https://ico.org.uk/concerns>

Contact details

Information Commissioner's Office
Wycliffe House
Water Lane
Wilmslow
Cheshire
SK9 5AF

Telephone: 0303 123 1113 (local rate)